

How long do you think it will be before the people in The Mississippi Legislature will ever pass a bill to make animal abuse a felony and not just a misdemeanor?

Maybe the Legislature is listening to Farm Bureau too much as they are trying to get the people to be confused with PETA, and our goals, of trying to get the Legislature to pass a bill to make animal abuse a felony in Mississippi.

Mississippi, in all our progress, is still 1 of 4 states where animal abuse is still only a misdemeanor.

We are not taking up the goals of PETA, we are just going after the people who intentionally harm an animal.

The Mississippi Legislature is listening to big money insurance companies, more than they are to the small ordinary citizens who put them in office.
